

WHEN THE WIND BLOWS

by Raymond Briggs

The stage version of the famous anti-nuclear cartoon parable.

Hearing of a pre-emptive strike on the way, a retired couple try to conform to the Government Guidelines for survival.

They emerge from their makeshift shelter to find a devastated post-holocaust world and trust to the 'Powers-That-Be' to come to their rescue.

THE ROVER

by Aphra Benn

Carnival comes to Mottisfont Abbey with this lively and colourful play.

When three sisters persuade their chaperone to accompany them on a wild expedition on carnival night anything can happen - and it certainly does.

It has taken this play a long time to achieve critical acclaim as critics of its time could not accept a female playwright - especially one who could write a bawdy romp like this. Now it is coming in to its own.

BLITHE SPIRIT

An improbable farce
by Noel Coward

When Charles Condomine invites Madame Arcati to hold a seance at his home, he certainly gets some unexpected results

A delightful comedy as only Noel Coward could write them.
