The Maskers Theatre Company presents

KING LEAR

by William Shakespeare

Directed by Ken Hann

The Maskers are pleased to present "the most emotionally charged of all plays" (John Barton) on the 400th anniversary of its first recorded production at the court of King James.

King Lear is not only about the division of the kingdom but about a father, his daughters and his property. The story encompasses national problems and the very human concerns of dysfunctional families. Both themes are as relevant to us today as they would have been to Shakespeare's Jacobean audiences.

The play is a profound examination of human nature, exploring our vulnerability and refusal to acknowledge the destruction we are causing until it is too late.

This is a great opportunity to see, in a theatre ideally suited to both the play's grandeur and its human scale, what is regarded by many, as Shakespeare's greatest work.

"King Lear stands like a colossus at the centre of Shakespeare's achievement as the grandest effort of his imagination." (Foakes).
