DON QUIXOTE

A play by Keith Dewhurst

from the novel by Miguel de Cervantes

This National Theatre adaptation provides fast-moving action, romance, hilarity and pathos.

Alonso Quijano is an ageing minor aristocrat obsessed with books of medieval knights and their fantastic adventures, slaying giants, fighting evil wizards, rescuing maidens, and acts of great chivalry. One day he launches himself into his fantasy (or is it his madness?), takes the title "Don Quixote de la Mancha", and sets off with his loyal servant and squire, Sancho Panza, a local farmer, to rid La Mancha's towns & villages of giants, villains and injustice. In Quixote's feverish mind, windmills become giants, inns are mistaken for castles, and sheep turn into warring armies. Sancho's down-to-earth advice and common sense are to no avail against his master's fantasies as they ride from one mad adventure to the next. Meanwhile, back home, Quixote's friends, anxious to cure his madness, are devising desperate schemes to bring him back to the safety of his own bed!
