The Merry Wives of Windsor

William Shakespeare

Shakespeare's comedy at its best!

When financially embarrassed fat old Knight Sir John Falstaff decamps in Windsor Town at The Garter Inn with his down and out companions, his prime concern is solvency. His intent is to locate a wife or two with wealthy husbands, woo them and win them, and so obtain access to their spouses fortune.

However, the merry wives have different ideas!

With feminine cunning coupled with impish plans they set out to avenge themselves of this affront from the fat old Knight.

At the same time, the daughter of one of these wives is being wooed by suitable and unsuitable suitors aided and abetted by the the towns gossip and self styled matchmaker.

The culmination of all these merry machinations is enacted at midnight in the haunted Windsor Park Forest!

The outcome is both bizarre and romantic whatever your point of view may be!

A warm welcome and licensed bar awaits you at our easy-to-find Studio Theatre.

Plenty of local car parks are available off Shirley High Street (no charge after 6pm).

See website for further location and parking details.
